

Alejandro Jiménez Zabala

Mechatronics Engineering Student | Programming and Software Development

• Bogotá, Colombia • alejandro.jz1312@gmail.com • github.com/alejojimenez • (+57) 315 722 5866

PROFILE

Mechatronics engineering student of the National University of Colombia, focused on programming and software development, with experience working on Python, C/C++, MatLab, web development, microcontrollers programming and Git/GitHub. Interested on providing input for developing technologies, capable of autonomous learning, logical thinking, and both individual and and group projects.

EXPERIENCE

Python's management of ENIQ's group

October 2025 – Present

National University of Colombia

- Development and speaker of Python and GitHub teaching sessions.
- Design of teaching materials and practical programming examples.

Racetrack marshall volunteer

June 2019 – Present

Colombian Federation of Motorsport

- Safety management on the race track and surrounding areas.
- Incident management to safely resume events normality.
- Provide incident reports during and after events.

Bicycle mechanic

February 2023 – February 2024

F. Duarte Bicycles

- Performing maintenance and replacing bicycle components.
- Reporting and customer service management.
- Logistical assistance at events on behalf of the business.

KartUN group member

February 2018 – February 2023

National University of Colombia

- Maintenance and tuning of GO-Kart vehicles.
- Management of group event logistics on behalf of the National University of Colombia.
- Moderation, creation, and publication of content on the group's social media accounts.

EDUCATION

- Mechatronics engineer (in training) | National University of Colombia
- High School Diploma | Alfonso Jaramillo School

TECHNICAL SKILLS

Languages: Python, C, C++, MatLab

Web: HTML, CSS

Tools: Git, GitHub, Excel (Intermediate)

Embedded systems: Microcontrollers programming (Arduino and ESP32)

PROFESSIONAL SKILLS

Problem solving | Critical thinking | Autonomous learning | Adaptability | Time management | Technical communication | Teamwork | Capable of explaining technical concepts | Organized | Attention to detail